

Static Electricity
Experiment
Typed by Sean

We tested materials to see they would be affected by static electricity. We made our predictions first.

We rubbed a balloon on a wooly scarf. This charged the balloon with static electricity.

We put the balloon on the different materials to see if they would stick to the balloon.

Only the tissue paper and the foil stuck to the balloon.

Our Results

